

I am appalled that laws that used to require equal time for candidates in a political campaign either no longer apply or are no longer enforced! That, coupled with increasing media consolidation, does not serve the public's interest.

Sinclair Broadcasting's forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary so close to the election shows what happens when laws protecting the public are weakened.

Sinclair has free use of the airwaves and should be prevented from abusing that use. Their current actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.

Nancy Williams
Phoenix, Arizona